Green Eats Week

Your favorite local restaurants are going compostable!

Stop by a Green Eats Week participating restaurant October 21-28 and look for the Green Eats menu item. Purchase a Green Eats menu item and you'll get a great meal served using fully compostable products, plus a coupon for products from Cedar Grove Composting! Don't forget to drop your leftovers—food, packaging and all—in the compostables bin on your way out.

Food+ Presents Green Eats Week is a week-long promotion created by Seattle Public Utilities Food+Compostables program to educate Seattle diners about customer area composting at local restaurants. Green Eats Week features local restaurants that are among the first to implement customer area composting and to offer menu items in compostable and recyclable service ware. By July 1, 2010 all food service businesses in Seattle will be required to use compostable or recyclable packaging.
